Reasons for Allowance

1. Claims 1, 4, 7-11, 14, 16-18 and 20-25 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

While Keane (U.S. Patent No. 5,195,045) discloses a matching system that communicates instructions and configuration commands from a user interface to a UART. The system comprises a matching network having two variable impedance devices, a tune detector for detecting the condition of the impedance match between RF-signal and the load, and a controller for modifying the values of the variable impedance components in response to the measured tune condition. Keane does not teach a portable device including a coprocessor and a mass storage device selected from the group of CD-ROMs, FlashCards, Optical Disks, and magnetic media, coupled between a POD interface and a second communication interface for communicating sensor information there between, the second communication interface communicating sensor information that complies with a second protocol, the portable device translating the sensor information between the first protocol and the second protocol and being detachable from the POD interface and the second communication interface; and other limitations related to these features in combination with the remaining elements and features of the claimed invention.

And Rostoker (U.S. Patent No. 6,131,125) discloses a smart plug-and-play protocol translation cable for use between a personal computer and peripheral such as printers, video, and various network interfaces. The translation cable includes translation circuitry coupled to at least some of the plurality of wires of the electric cable at points between the first plurality of pins of a first connector and a second plurality of pins of a second connector. Rostoker does not teach that the translation cable can be used to translate sensor information; and other limitations related to these features in combination with the remaining elements and features of the claimed invention.

The prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention, in conjunction with all the other claimed limitations, a communication interface system for communicating information in a plasma processing system having all the claimed features of applicant's instant invention, specifically including: an interface portable device including a coprocessor and a mass storage device selected from the group of CD-ROMs, FlashCards, Optical Disks, and magnetic media, coupled between a POD interface and a second communication interface for communicating sensor information there between, the second communication interface communicating sensor information that complies with a second protocol, the portable device translating the sensor information between the first protocol and the second protocol and being detachable from the POD interface and the second communication interface, etc., as set forth in the claims. It is for these reasons that applicant's invention defines over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
